

Faculty for Transport and Logistics Ljubljana, Slovenia

The Faculty of Transport and Logistics is committed to providing high-quality education and training opportunities to our students. As part of this commitment, we have established partnerships with other institutions across Europe to enable student mobility through the Erasmus+ program.

Our Erasmus policy is designed to support and encourage student participation in international exchanges, promoting cross-cultural understanding and personal and professional development. We are committed to providing equal opportunities to all our students, regardless of background or ability, and to ensuring that our Erasmus activities are accessible, inclusive, and safe.

We are committed to establishing and maintaining strong partnerships with our Erasmus+ partners, and to promoting a culture of cooperation, collaboration, and mutual understanding. We believe that Erasmus exchanges offer a unique opportunity for our students to develop their language skills, broaden their horizons, and gain valuable international experience that will enhance their employability and career prospects.

We are committed to ensuring that our Erasmus policy is regularly reviewed and updated to reflect changing needs, priorities, and circumstances. We will continue to work closely with our partners, students, and staff to promote and support international mobility and to help our students achieve their full potential in a globalised world.
